

Select the right answer from the box and complete the following:

unstructured interview; validity; covert observation; sampling; structured interview questionnaire; representativeness; observation; reliability; overt observation;

- A method where people answer a list of questions
- A method where sociologists watch what is going on
- A method where sociologists ask everyone the same questions and record the answers
.....
- A method where sociologists have a list of topics to guide them and the respondent is free to lead the interview
- This term refers to different researchers getting the same results
- This term refers to whether the group being studied is typical of the rest of the population of that group
- This term refers to the technique used to select a group that is typical of the whole group
.....
- This term refers to whether the research gets at the truth
- This term refers to observation where the people are unaware they are being watched
.....
- This term refers to observation where the people are aware they are being watched
.....